

2 LA CROSSE GIRLS ARRESTED IN RAID ON ROBBER GANG

Evelyn Hanson and Beatrice
Deadly Arrested in Minneapolis Hotel

Led by a 13 year old girl who said she had been kidnaped by a robber gang of five men and two women and held prisoner for four days, detectives early Thursday raided Min-neapolis hotel and apartment rooms, arrested four men and two women, and started a hunt for a bandit, wounded in an oil station holdup.

Escaping from the gang, she said, the girl fled to her home, told her mother the story and was taken to police headquarters.

At 43 Eastman avenue, Minne-apolis, Detectives George W. Han-ford and Al Marxen arrested Louis McCarthy, aged 35, John Bereski, aged 18, and a boy, aged 17. On the street nearby they caught James Whittier, aged 30.

Loot Reported Found

In a hotel room at 121 Fourth street, S. they arrested Evelyn Han-son, aged 18, and Beatrice Deadly, aged 18, who said they lived in La Crosse, Wis., girls who had been in Minneapolis three weeks. Neither the sheriff nor the police has received any report of the robberies or the girls.

Pocket knives, pistols, watches, a loose diamond and several rings were found in the room at 43 Eastman avenue, detectives said. One of the watches, they said, was the property of Donald Wilson, clerk at the J. W. Dargavel drug store, 3305 Minnehaha avenue. Wilson and Mrs. Dargavel were held up by a "father and son" bandit pair Sept. 24 when they were in the store, and robbed of $500 and a watch.

Searching the room occupied by the girls, detectives said they found a letter which directed them to the Eastman avenue place, and also recovered two pistols hidden in the seat of a chair.

Wounded Bandit Hunted

"At least two crimes have been traced to a gang of four, a Chicago outfit, now in Minneapolis," Captain of Detectives Frank Brunskill said.

"A fifth man was wounded in an oil filling station holdup some time ago, when a druggist ran out of his store, across the street, and began shooting at them.

"Bloodstained clothes were found in one of the rooms raided today and the prisoners said finally that they belonged to another man, who has not been found.

"McCarthy and Bereski are to be charged with highway robbery, the 17 year old boy is held for the juvenile court, and Whittier and the two girls are being held for further investigation."

NO INDEPENDENTS FILE PAPERS FOR GENERAL ELECTION

MADISON, Wis.—If many are con-sidering running as independent candi-dates in the November election, it was not evidenced at the secretary of state's office Friday. Thursday was the first day for filing indepen-dent nomination papers and none were received. Independent candi-dates have until October 5th to file their papers.

Under the statutes independent candidates for state offices representing more than one county must file their papers at the state capital. Others file with the county clerk.

Third Floor—Rug and Drapery Section

Bringing the Neglected Attic to Life

WHEN YOU WISH you had more room in the house, do you ever think of the attic? The dusty, neglected garret can be transformed easily and at little expense into a cheerful, livable extra room.

FIRST OF ALL you'll need a floor. Printed Linoleum, over an inexpensive pine underflooring, is the answer.
Walls can be of tinted wallboard. A rag rug, a chair or two and some dainty window curtains will do the rest.

ONCE YOU HAVE given your attic a floor of Linoleum, it will cease to be a storeroom for rubbish and become a room where you and the children will like to go.
You will use it as a sewing room because threads and lint do not stick to linoleum. The children can play on linoleum safely, for it isn't slippery, and is easy to keep perfectly clean and sanitary.

IN SELECTING a pattern for your floor, come in and let us show you our large stock of linoleums.

SPIRIT OF GRACE

AND I will pour upon the house of David and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for Him.—Zachariah 12:10.

"Entangled"

THE republican party went into power in 1920 as a result of national feeling against the League of Nations based upon sentiment created by republican propaganda. In its campaign the party capitalized American antipathy to entangling alliances with Europe, based upon an idea of George Washington which that hero did not live to revise under modern conditions. It was our thought at the time, and continues to be, that since America could not keep out of wars created by Europe's own entanglements, it would be better to get in and try and prevent war by straightening out the entanglements. The last European entanglement cost us $50,000,000,000 and 60,000 men, when had we stood with Great Britain in serving notice on Germany that Austria must not be assailed, it is probable there would have been no war at all.

When the issue between Turkey and England arose, less than two weeks ago, this newspaper suggested that should the conflict assume the proportions of a world war, we would again be drawn into it, because as a commercial nation interested in every sea route and every market in the world, our interests would be so involved that we could not refrain from participation, especially should Christendom find itself arrayed against the Mohammedan world.

On Tuesday Charles Evans Hughes, American secretary of state, announced to the world that the United States stands "unequivocal" with England and other nations who demand that the waters leading into the Black Sea shall be an open door to all nations.

A few years ago we declared for the open door in China. Almost to the extent of the Monroe Doctrine it has become a standing American policy. Our diplomacy has made it plain that this is a thing to maintain which Uncle Sam would unsheathe the sword. In his declaration regarding the Dardanelles and Bosphorus Mr. Hughes has put this new open door upon the same plane as the open door in China.

Our administration at Washington believes that this declaration will be sufficient to induce the Turks to consent to the open door policy. Turkey knows what we did when finally dragged into the last war. When the late Col. Roosevelt gave the Turkish government a few hours to liberate an American citizen held prisoner by a Turkish bandit, the Sultan "stepped lively." It is presumed that Turkey has a wholesome regard for our military strength.

But supposing Kemal Pasha "stands pat," and British guns bark in the neutral zone? Supposing that wherever it exists, Islam rises against the Christian? Supposing nation after nation becomes involved, and that the untold might of Russia backs the Turks in a new world war?

Already Mr. Hughes has injected the United States into the "entanglement." How can it stay out of the war, if a world war comes? Will it abandon its unequivocal demand for the open door through the sea of Marmora? Will it permit a combination of agnostic bolshevism and fanatical Mohammedism to raid modern civilization and seal seas and seaports against our ships and our business?

Perhaps we have spoken in time, but with Turkey flushed with victory, the Greek government overthrown, France and Italy out of accord with England, and the latter already showing weakness by making surprising concession, this is not what the American sporting world knows as a "cinch." Through membership in the League of Nations we might long ago have used an ounce of prevention. Having failed to do this, we may be later called upon for a pound of cure.

Sam's Customers

MEASURED in dollars, American exports to Europe now are more than twice as big as before the war, though there has been a considerable falling off compared with a year ago. From the first of the year to August 1, we sent Europe about $637,000,000 worth of goods more than she shipped us. This, when it comes to balancing the books, leaves us figuratively in the hole at a rate of $1,000,000,000 a year. Which is doing fairly well at helping Europe back on its feet, considering what she already owes us. Of course, some of this trade debt is balanced in gold, but only a fraction of it. A great mystery, where the financing funds come from. The complaint from Europe must be because we don't give our stuff away instead of selling it on credit.

How about trade with South America, which we used to hear so much about? Well, it's growing. For the first seven months of 1922, our exports to South American countries totaled around $122,000,000. However, in the same months, we bought from South America $65,000,000 more than we sold her. So our trade in that direction is growing—the wrong way.

Our trade with Asiatic countries—China, Japan, India, etc.—is also running twice as big as before the war. In the first seven months this year our exports to Asia totaled $273,000,000. But Asia shipped us about $161,000,000 more than we shipped her.

We sell Europe more than she sells us. We sell Asia and South America less than they sell us. Logically the situation should be reversed, for it's only by importing more than we export that we can ever hope to get back what we have loaned Europe.

Grain

IN THE British grain market, experts estimate that this year's harvest of the six cereal crops of Russia and Ukraine will total about 39,000,000 tons, against 27,000,000 last year and 66,000,000 in 1916. That should be enough to keep Russia alive, on a restricted diet. But there is no excess for export. Which will please American farmers who know what grain prices, already low, would be if Russia were selling heavily in the international market.

Typed

A NEW typewriter is invented, with 22 more keys than are on machines now used. These keys print such words as "the," "was," "are," "and," etc. The inventor claims that these 22 words, on the average make up 32 out of each 100 words used in typewritten correspondence. Conversation is becoming a lost art. Letter writing already is.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

At a meeting to be held at Fjelstad's hall tomorrow night there is to be formed the North Side Republican club. The club is really a continuance of the old Burlington club, an organization of railroad men who banded together before the primaries. The new club, however, will be of broader scope, its work probably taking in half of the state. Its members will include all interested in good government.

The four hundred and twentieth anniversary of the landing of Columbus in America will be celebrated here Saturday and Sunday, October 12 and 13 by the La Crosse, Winona and Arcadia councils of the Knights of Columbus. About 500 members of the Arcadia and Winona councils will be here. Initiation ceremonies, pontifical high mass and a banquet will feature the celebration. The mass will be celebrated Sunday when the new $6,000 pipe organ recently installed in the cathedral will be used for the first time.

Professor Harry Packman, organist of Christ Episcopal church, is attending to the piano wants of the normal school student body. Already a class of twenty pupils has been organized.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A. A. Piffner, one of the oldest and best known druggists of the city, died early this morning at his home after a short illness of paralysis. Mr. Piffner was born in La Crosse in 1858 and has always lived here. He learned the drug business in the store of George Howard and in 1896 bought Mr. Howard's store. He conducted the store until recently when he became ill.

The Wisconsin-Wyoming Copper Company has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The company is formed for the purpose of developing mining properties in the Grand Encampment district and is capitalized at $10,000,000. The officers of the company are Wm. O. president; R. B. Gelatt, vice president; N. E. Polleys, treasurer, and John M. Vrchota, secretary and general manager.

Assistant State Superintendent of Schools Parker and County Superintendent Barney M. Jorstad today attended an exciting mass meeting of citizens of the towns of Holland and Onalaska held in Holmen yesterday for the purpose of settling the controversy over the erection of a high school in Holmen. It was decided that the high school should be built, provided the project is not killed at the town election next spring. The building will cost about $2,000.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

N. B. Holway's funeral yesterday was not only generally attended by citizens but also by most of the employees of his mill, six of whom were the active pallbearers. Rev. J. M. Payson of the Universalist church officiated.

Mr. Mann is erecting a new residence on Seventh between King and Main streets.

Work on the Germania hall is being pushed. Architects Stoltz and Schick are confident that the building will be finished by Christmas and the dedication will probably take place on New Year's night. In order to present a good view of the structure the trees around it will have to be cut down.

The Innocent Little Thing

By JESSIE DOUGLAS

"We're about the same age, aren't we, Anice?"

"Yes," Anice James answered lightly.

She sat on the lowest step of her own veranda, her hands clasped about her knees.

Robert Hunnewell, turning to look at her, said with a laugh, "You look charming, my dear!"

"What is it, Bob? Do you want to ask my advice?"

He frowned and Anice saw his dark brows come together. How well she knew every lineament of that face, the brown laughing eyes, the steady mouth, the skin almost blue-black on the chin.

"I was just thinking," he went on, "what a pull you have had of it. How you had to give up your father's care of you. And how well you've done it! I should think you'd feel proud at times when you think all you have done for yourself."

"Sometimes I only feel sorry," she said suddenly. "All I've missed, never could burn the candle at both ends. It's been nothing but work, work, work."

"I know what you mean, Anice. All that lovely bloom is brushed off. You see men as they are. You've had to knock up against things; you've lost your illusions."

She did not answer him. The silver starlight showed her face white and soft, with pools of shadow where her eyes were and a slim white column of throat.

"That's the way I feel, too," he went on as though he were thinking aloud. "There's only one way to get back those illusions. That's to fall in love. Her hands lifted and she looked at him. He did not even see her."

"When I do fall in love I want some innocent little thing who still has rainbow hopes and believes that dreams come true. I'll have enough sophistication for two."

"Who is she?" was on Anice's lips but she caught back the words.

She rose suddenly. "I'm tired tonight," she said in a detached voice. "I'm sorry, Robert, but tomorrow is going to be a hard day."

She held out her hand and as he clasped it she drew it from his fingers. "—there's a girl, Anice, I wish you could meet her. Could I bring her to see you?"

"Why, of course, Bob, why don't you both come to tea tomorrow afternoon?" she asked cordially. "It's Saturday, you know."

She did not watch him open the gate; she went quickly inside and standing there put her two hands over her face for a moment as though she could not bear the thought.

Anice hurried home from the office next afternoon to get everything ready for her guests. She had brought some yellow roses and some cakes, and as she began cutting water-thin slices of bread for the sandwiches her mother came into the kitchen.

"You said Robert was coming with some girl," she asked, "why I thought, Anice, dear."

"Don't think, mother!" Anice smiled. But Mrs. James saw the hurt beneath that smile.

"I have an idea it's that little Hale girl who's visiting here. She's just out of a convent and scarcely nineteen. I've heard she's a real beauty."

She was very pretty. As Anice rose to greet her guest she saw in a glance the innocent blue eyes and pouting mouth, the fluff of hair beneath a drooping, flower-laden hat.

Anice herself felt suddenly very old and suspicious. She did not know that her own green organdie seemed like the sheath of a lily bud to her white face with its dark wide eyes. In Robert Hunnewell's face Anice read a new enthusiasm, a certain proprietary manner, as he spoke to little Dolly Hale.

"How sweet of you to ask me," Miss Hale lisped. "Every one is so sweet in this little town. It's such a relief to get away from the constant whine of New York."

"But I thought you just left the convent?" Anice asked, adding, "I'm taking ice to the tall glasses of tea."

"Oh, yeth, the convent," Dolly lisped. "They're so strict, you know, we had to stuff our keyhole when we sneaked out."

She glanced up to see the rather crest-fallen look on Robert's face. She changed at once.

"No, that I never care to smoke," she said softly.

Robert smiled across at Anice. His eyes said, "What did I tell you? Isn't she innocent?"

The tea progressed. Dolly lisped on and showed the dimple in her smooth cheek and the upturned innocence of her blue eyes. Her two listeners gave her their flattered attention, although Anice from her place behind the tea table had her own opinion.

It was in the middle of one of Dolly's delicious bits about their convent life that Robert sprang up.

"I say, if you'll excuse me a few minutes, I've got to phone a man about an appointment." He left them.

Dolly crossed her legs and swept her hands above her head.

"Isn't he a dear, my dear? I could have sworn that old reverence stuff and chivalry toward women just sticking out of his manner."

"Other like his manner," Anice said coldly.

Dolly opened her eyes.

"How you can stick it! Why, he hasn't any more! Haven't you a fat, my dear? I'll die if I can't have a smoke. I'm so sick of this convent stuff, but all I can do is to fall for it."

She drew out her lipstick and began to apply a little French rouge to her already how-shaped lips.

Robert returned in about half an hour and explained that he'd have to leave. He and Dolly slipped away and Anice saw that Dolly had resumed her lip and her appealing innocence.

She was rather surprised that evening when some one came hurrying up the way that she saw with dismay that her caller was Robert Hunnewell, but she rose and held out her hand.

"She is pretty," Bob, just as pretty as you said she was."

"I never said she was pretty," he said coldly. "Is this a love conspiracy, Anice? Do you think I'm

Oh, Boy! Concord Grapes!

Real, old-fashioned Concord Grapes, heavy with juice, are here again. Car loads of them are in from the vineyards.

There's no Grape Flavor like Concord and for Grape Juice with the real essence of hospitality in it, there's nothing like Concord Grapes. Besides, they're not expensive!

Try this Recipe for the "Home-Made" Kind:

Carefully wash and stem grapes. To every 5 pounds of fruit add 1 pint of water. Crush grapes, bring to boil slowly, and strain through jelly bag. Add ½ cupful granulated sugar to each quart of juice. Bring to boiling point and pour into sterilized bottles. Pasteurize by submerging bottles 15 minutes in boiling water. Seal air tight. Note: Unless juice is pasteurized and sealed immediately, it will ferment.

FOREST FIRE MENACE IN NORTH MINNESOTA INCREASING TODAY

Fires Forming in Semi-Circle
With Many Small Towns
in Path of Flames

ST. PAUL, Minn.—The potential menace of forest fires burning in northern and central Minnesota had risen Friday with the wind, and military and forestry officials directing the work of fire-fighting expressed fear that the situation will show no signs of abatement, according to reports from the fire zone.

The most serious aspect of the whole situation, according to Major Gillespie, assistant to Adjutant General Rhinow, seems to be that the fires about forty-five miles west, northwest and southwest of Duluth are forming a semi-circle. If these fires join and a high wind springs up, officials said, there is no doubt that it will spell havoc to the small communities in that district.

Menacing fires also were reported to W. T. Cox, state forester from Koochiching county, where 400 men are battling the flames which have burned over more than 12,000 acres.

KEMAL AGREES TO PARLEY WITH THE BRITISH CHIEF

circles, it is stated, in authoritative quarters.

The protracted and frequent cabinet meetings which have been going on for the last few days, all have been for the prevention of such a conflagration.

It is explained that these fears are based on the relations known to exist between the Ankara government and soviet Russia and the potentialities of such relations.

Keep Turk from Europe

The whole British policy, it is stated, is to keep the Turks from crossing the Dardanelles into eastern Thrace, because, it is maintained, that in this event fighting would certainly occur and the whole of the Balkans would be drawn into the struggle.

It is declared emphatically that such a crossing will not be countenanced.

Platation of the neutral zone by the Turks continues

Turkish soldiers are approaching within a few feet of the British outposts and reconnoitering the whole of the defensive positions. General Harrington's orders have not been changed.

The cabinet went into session Friday morning and probably will continue in conference throughout the day with only necessary intermissions.

Sultan's Abdication Rumored

Apparently authentic reports from Constantinople indicate that Sultan Mohammed VI has abdicated in favor of the heir apparent, Prince Abdul Medjid Effendi, his cousin. It is assumed that this was under pressure from Mustafa Kemal, who recently appointed a "governor" for Constantinople, and who is quoted as delivering diatribes against the sultan.

Cabinet Prepares for War

LONDON.—By The Associated Press. The possibilities presented by the Greek revolution continued to dominate the "Morning Post" situation Friday, particularly as regards the action the Greek army may take in Thrace, with the British cabinet sitting almost continuously.

The long and frequent consultations of the ministers are in themselves taken as sufficient evidence of the gravity with which approaching events are viewed, while London newspapers are appearing with headlines and issuing news posters in which the word "grave" is frequently used. The cabinet is said to be occupied with many details involving preparations for a long campaign on the part of the British troops, irrespective of matters of general policy.

One fact outstanding is that the British cabinet is going ahead on the assumption that it should be ready in case an important war should come in the near East.

Public Will Back Government

A second fact is that the British public is apparently coming to take the attitude that if war is necessary, the government will be backed up.

In some diplomatic circles a big war already is regarded as inevitable, particularly if the old British policy is adhered to—a policy based on the idea that a strong Turkey would continue to be a menace to Europe.

In such case, it is pointed out, it is not minor considerations, such as whether the reply of Kemal Pasha is favorable or not, that would guide events.

It is considered in some political quarters that the Moscow government will use whatever influence it may have with the Kamilists to precipitate a general war, as the Moscow regime, it is argued, thrives on trouble and that it is, therefore, concentrating divisions in the Caucasus ready for Kemal if he should accept them.

France Wavering

In well informed circles, the opinion was expressed that France and Italy now were wavering on the question of their non-participation, while continued efforts were being made to convince France that in case a strong Turkey were allowed to be created, she would later lose Syria just as Great Britain would lose Mesopotamia.

It is further pointed out in these quarters that any indecision by Jugoslavia regarding participation in war against the Kamilists, has now been removed by the abdication of Constantine.

Forced to Scrub Autos

Seventy-nine motorists in Philadelphia, Pa., were recently forced to alight from their cars, accept scrubbing brushes from a stern policeman, and clean their dirty automobile license tags. Among the group were a number of prominent society folks. It was part of a campaign to enforce the state traffic regulation that the number plates be visible 50 feet away.—Davenport Times.

HENRY FORD MAY ESTABLISH ZINC PLANT IN STATE

Engineers Looking Over Wisconsin and Kickapoo Rivers for Power Possibilities

PORTAGE, Wis.—Engineers in the employ of Henry Ford have been surveying the Wisconsin and Kickapoo rivers to ascertain their possibilities for water power, it was announced here Friday. The object of the move is to develop an electricity plant with a view of establishing a zinc oxide plant for the manufacture of zinc to be used in the manufacture of automobile tires.

The engineers are expected to look over the Wisconsin river between Blue river and the mouth of the Wisconsin below Prairie du Chien, with the same object in view.

For six months or more representatives of the Ford interests have been mingling with the owners, operators and miners of the zinc producing mines about Platteville, Wis., and it was said they have taken options on certain properties which they will develop if the plans already formulated are not balked.

FORTY DOLLARS IN PEN- NIES IS LOOT OBTAINED

van, and customers of the bank have been advised not to leave Liberty bonds or other negotiable securities in the boxes.

Dog's Bark Is Heard

Opinions of villagers vary as to when the robbery took place. A neighbor's dog barked for several minutes between 12 and 1 o'clock.

The men employed in the garage pointed to the fresh wheel marks left by the Olson car when it was driven from the building, and argued that it was much later in the morning when the machine left.

The noise made by the big trucks which pass the bank every few minutes, hauling gravel all night onto the new La Crescent-Caledonia road, prevented persons living near by hearing any noises which the robbers may have made while pounding on the combination lock.

Probably Went North

That the robbers finally made their escape in the stolen car, with their load of pennies on the north river road, is the belief of La Crescent authorities. They pointed out that this highway afforded the easiest means of escape. The machine may have climbed any one of a half dozen roads onto the ridge and headed toward Rochester and the twin cities.

Miss Olson said this morning that her car was well supplied with gasoline and oil when left in the Sweeney garage last night. She carried no burglary insurance on the machine. It is an old model Chevrolet, although in good mechanical condition.

Discovered by Postmaster

The burglary was discovered at 7 o'clock Friday morning by Miss Catherine McCaffrey, postmaster of La Crescent, and daughter of President McCaffrey of the bank. When Miss McCaffrey looks up the postoffice at night it is her habit to carry a grip containing the day's receipts over to the bank and deposit it in an outer vault for safe keeping. She has a key to the bank and obtains the grip enroute to the postoffice in the morning.

When Miss McCaffrey inserted her key in the lock this morning she found the door unlocked. Stepping into the bank she found evidences of the robbery and immediately summoned the bank officers and village marshal.

Later in the morning Captain Dugan and Detective McGrath of the La Crosse police force made an examination of the premises and obtained articles handled by the robbers, for the purpose of securing fingerprints if possible. The tools used to pry off the combination were found lying on the table and floor, while the broken combination lay near the vault door.

Missed Bank's Money

Mr. McCaffrey said that the La Crescent bank is not in the habit of carrying large sums of money. It has on hand each day only enough money for current needs and when larger sums are required draws on the Batavian National Bank of La Crosse.

The burglars would have obtained what money the bank had on hand had they broken open the upper compartment of the small, modern safe which stands just inside the counter. It was in the lower compartment of this safe, left unlocked, where the pennies were found.

The bank carries burglary insurance.

SUPERIOR BROTHERS DIE IN AUTO WRECK

SUPERIOR, Wis.—Two Superior brothers were killed shortly before last midnight when an automobile in which they were riding crashed into a pile of lumber on the road near South Range. The dead are David and John Nelson, this city.

David died in the police ambulance, while being taken to the hospital. John succumbed to his injuries at the hospital, East End, one hour after the accident. Two other occupants of the car escaped injury.

The accident occurred when a wheel of the automobile came off as the car was taking a sharp curve. The machine swerved from the road and plunged into a nearby telephone pole. The two brothers who were riding in the front seat were caught in the wreckage when the car was crumpled by the force of the impact.

Public Debate

THE STRIKERS' SIDE

To the Editor of the La Crosse Tribune: Dear Sir: Would you kindly allow me to make a reply to the letter written by Gus A. Rieck, strikebreaker at a Burlington shop, through the columns of your paper?

Mr. Rieck speaks in a very injured tone and in the point of view of the striking shop men. He seems to be entertaining the idea that he has done a noble act in helping out the opposite side. He does not realize that organized labor has made it possible to draw a living wage today. Otherwise he would not be drawing enough salary to feed a hungry family.

He speaks of the "strike being lost" which helped the firm to lose it. What the man who believes in the adage, "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you" would think of being a "free country." Now if that were altogether true we would have no need of such a thing as organized labor to protect our natural and God-given rights for brotherly love would be ruling the world.

MOVIE ACTRESSES BEAUTIFUL BU DUMB SAYS EBAN

CHICAGO, Ill.—Motte picture actresses are beautiful, bydumb, according to George Eban, screen actor. The actors—that is the n—, are not excepted by Mr. Eban, who was in Chicago attending to business matters.

"Eighty per cent of a moving picture actress and actress of today are exhibits," said Mr. Eban. "They are not actors.—Just exhibits. And that's what's wrong with pictures today."

Of the actresses he said: "Beautiful creates these moving picture actresses. There is no denying that. They are striking, oh, so beautiful, but as dumb. They never hear of Booth. What does the name of Eban or Barrymore or Drew mean to them—Ah, nothing at all!"

And of the men: "It is the men with the men of the pictures, good looking men, men who leap and run and shoot, but few who act."

JUDGE WILLETT OF TAMA, IOWA, MADE GA. R. COMMANDER

DES MOINES, Ia.—Installation of officers, elected Thursday, and the adoption of resolutions is all that remains of the G. A. R. to do today before adjourning their fifty-fourth annual encampment.

Election of Judge J. W. Willett of Tama, Iowa, as commander in chief of the G. A. R. breaks a precedent of fifty-six years standing. He is the first veteran who served as a soldier during the Civil war, to be chosen.

OSKOSH OPENS SEASON
IN GAME WITH RIPPON

OSKOSH, Wis.—The Oskosh normal school football team will open its grid season Saturday by playing Ripon college at Ripon. Two years ago the Normals surprised the college team by defeating them. Last season Ripon retaliated by stinging Oskosh. Now the Normals hope to repeat the performance of two years ago. A special train will be operated to Ripon and the rooters will be accompanied by the school band. The Normals have a heavy but fast team this year and a number of the squad have won distinction in high and normal school football in the past.

FARMER IS HELD FOR POISONING OF NEIGHBOR'S CATTLE

Dave Conradt of Mabel in Fillmore County Jail Following Investigation

Dave Conradt of Mabel is being held at the Fillmore county jail at Preston in connection with the poisoning of a herd of cattle at Mabel. He was apprehended by Sheriff C. E. Christensen after evidence had been found in a workshop near his home, according to the authorities. He is being held on a charge of "unlawfully exposing poison to animals," county Attorney Samuel C. Battidore said that it was the first case of its kind that he had handled in the county. When it was discovered that the herd of cattle belonging to Arch Gordon, former town marshal of Mabel, had been poisoned with corn filled with Paris green, bloodhounds were obtained from Waterloo, Iowa, to aid in the search. The authorities, however, unable to locate anything from which the bloodhounds could get the scent, turned their attention to other means of locating their man. Informed that Conradt had made frequent alleged threats to "get even with Gordon" as a result of an enemy incurred three or four years ago when Gordon was town marshal, the authorities called at Conradt's home. Conradt had just returned to town. He had been working on a farm out of town during the morning and had returned shortly after noon. A hasty investigation of the shed near his home resulted in finding an auger to which bits of the pit of corn had stuck, several empty cans of Paris green, and corn husks which the authorities say were used to close the hole in the corn which had been filled with the poison according to County Attorney Battidore. Paris green was scattered about on the floor of the shed, he said. Conradt was immediately arrested. Conradt, who is a man of middle age, has a small residence property in Mabel and has a family of one son and three daughters. His wife died a few years ago. His three daughters attend school at Mabel.

When toxic poisons penetrate the intestinal walls—EXPECT THE WORST!

Next follows polluting of the blood! This means the poisoning of every organ in the body! Vitality and energy become lower each day; the brain becomes sluggish. Old age and illness gallop in! You can avoid all that by permanently relieving constipation—the cause of 90% of all human ills—through the regular use of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled! Keep the eliminative tract open in healthy normal condition and you will live in health years longer. Kellogg's Bran is simply nature's food. It is not a "remedy," but eaten regularly each day—at least two tablespoonfuls; in chronic cases, with each meal—it will sweep the bowels, cleansing and purifying. You cannot afford to feel sluggish;

to have your brain energy impaired; to have an offensive breath! Constipation can be blamed for them all! It hastens old age just as it is responsible for illness! The aged can be permanently relieved of constipation worries through the use of Bran. Every member of your family should eat it every day. Kellogg's Bran is most valuable in the diet of children. It will make them grow strong and robust. It clears a muddy or pimply complexion and removes an obnoxious breath. Bran's health work is wonderful. Kellogg's Bran is delicious as a cereal or sprinkled over other hot or cold cereal. It makes the most delightful pancakes, raisin bread, gems, etc. Recipes on every package. Buy Kellogg's Bran at all grocers.

Dancing Days Are Here!

WHEN the crisp Fall air sets your blood a-tingle, when golden afternoons beckon you to a dance on the porch, and the first mild chill of Fall evenings suggests amusement indoors—then you'll enjoy the music of the New Edison RE-CREATIONS.

The irresistible tunes that echo through Broadway night life can be RE-CREATED in your own home, played by world famous orchestras as clearly as if you could see the musicians themselves. And these RE-CREATIONS play nearly twice as long as the average record—hear them today.

Turkish Hordes Menace Christendom

The smoking ruins of Smyrna, the shallow graves of a thousand slaughtered non-combatants, the call for help from scores of thousands of starving, homeless, war-crazed refugees, the presence of a victorious Turkish host across the Straits from Constantinople, are facts which in themselves compel a searching of hearts by American editors to see whether any of the responsibility for what has happened may lie with America. And while these facts are terrible enough in themselves, there appears behind them, to many an editorial vision, the specters of Islamic "holy wars" against Christendom and a militant alliance of the outcast nations and the yellow races against what we call Western civilization.

Russian support of the Turkish Nationalist cause has been affirmed again and again in official pronouncements from Moscow. Once upon a time, after a defeat at the hands of allied Christian armies, a Turkish Sultan, ordered this prayer to be recited at sunset in every mosque in the Ottoman Empire: "May the Angel of Discord, who has always been our ally, come again to our aid and confound our enemies." Whether or not the Sultan resides in Constantinople, no Turkish army should be permitted in Europe or within striking distance of the Straits, thinks the New York World.

PROFESSIONALISM CHARGES AGAINST ROLLIE WILLIAMS ARE DENIED BY BADGERS

CHICAGO, Ill.—Strict enforcement of the Western conference rules prohibiting Big Ten athletes from engaging in professional sports during their college careers, is the demand of the University of Illinois, which again has taken the lead in cleaning out professionalism by disqualifying one of its own baseball and grid stars.

Other Big Ten athletes may follow Tom McCann, Illini star, on the ineligible list, according to George Huff, athletic director at Illinois.

On the heels of the McCann case came a flurry of excitement at Wisconsin over rumors that Rollie Williams, Badger grid star, may be protested on grounds that he played professional baseball last summer. T. E. Jones, director of athletics at Wisconsin, characterized the rumors as "absolutely unfounded."

Madison Denies It
MADISON, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin athletic department and Captain Rollie Williams of the Badger football team, deny without reservation reports that Williams has engaged in professional baseball and may be held ineligible for competition this year. The Wisconsin back-field star spent this past summer at a Y. M. C. A. boys' camp at Trout Lake Wis.

Bondi Out for Practice
The Badger back field received another addition Thursday night when Hobe Bondi, regular halfback on the 1917 University of Wisconsin football team reported for practice. His appearance on the field gives Coach Richards two back-fields of exceptional strength.

Early season performance shows the Cardinal team to be rounding into final form for its first contest with Carleton college, October 7. Captain Rollie Williams and Gibson are regularly stationed at the halfback positions with "Shorty" Barr piloting the first team. Merrill Taft is at present holding down the full-back job with Jack Harris, another strong line plunger, taking it easy with an injured arm.

Tebell and Russell Irish are regularly holding down the ends, with Nichols at center, Hohlfield and

LEAGUE OF NATIONS ENDORSED TODAY BY PRESSMEN'S MEETING

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Endorsement of the league of nations was given by the twenty-ninth biennial convention of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union of North America by the adoption of a committee report.

The committee expressed the view, point that the United States should enter wholeheartedly in participation of the league of nations and its functions, declaring the league to be the one great instrumentality for the establishment and maintenance of world peace.

In London, under present restrictions, no building is allowed to be higher than eighty feet above the street level.

Christianson at guards, and Murray and Below at tackles.
Practice scrimmages show the line to be strengthening, while the back field is developing a forward pass attack that will be heard from during the season.
The Badger squad already has a form that gives increased hope to the school and coaches for a championship eleven.

PORTRAIT OF HARVEY PRESENTED TO STATE BY FORMER STUDENTS

Tribute Paid to Famous Educator at Memorial Services in Madison

MADISON, Wis.—Presentation of an oil portrait of the late President L. D. Harvey of Stout Institute to the state of Wisconsin was made here Thursday night at Memorial Services for the noted educator. The portrait was presented by Secretary E. A. Fitzpatrick of the state board of education in behalf of President Harvey's former students and associates at Oshkosh, Milwaukee and Menomonee. The portrait was accepted for the state by Superintendent of Schools John Callahan.

"Mr. Harvey had been rapidly ascending from one position to another," said Mr. Fitzpatrick in presenting the portrait. "where the beneficent influence of his vigorous personality, dominated by his great interest in teacher training, had ever wider and wider scope. It would have been a great thing for this state to have had the benefit, even for a few years, longer, of the radiating force of this influence from its highest educational office, with its emphasis on trained personality in education, on the vital importance to public education of teacher training agencies, especially the normal schools, and on the necessity for ever continuing training, wider outlook, and deeper scholarship of the teachers in service. But unfortunately for the state, Mr. Harvey, after two terms as state superintendent, was denied further service in this position through the machinery of the convention system. But a wise and far-seeing layman, Senator Stout, exhibiting generally a type of layman interest in education which the state is now sorely in need of, gave Mr. Harvey an opportunity for further service in the work to which Mr. Harvey had dedicated his life—the training of teachers—but this time in the new and alluring field of manual training and domestic science.

"As president of Stout Institute, Mr. Harvey took an undeveloped, practically uncharted field, and developed it to such an extent that the Stout Institute graduates were in demand all over the country."

EIGHT FAMOUS VICTOR ARTISTS COME THURSDAY

Booked in again! The Eight famous Victor Artists, those popular talking machine men brought here last season by the Fred Leithold Piano Co. They return under the same local management, to the Theater on Thursday evening, October 5th.

Everything on this year's program will be new except the artists themselves. And even in the company roster a change has been made. Fred Van Eps is no longer present but Rudy Wiedoeft, recognized as the leader among saxophone players, takes his place. If anything, the instrumental end of the evening's program has been strengthened by this change.

Henry Burr is with them and his tenor voice is said to be better than ever. This is probably due to the fact that Burr gives his entire vacation period over to rest and careful study. And there is Albert Campbell, another tenor, famous for his duet work with Burr. John Meyer, baritone, and Frank Croxton, bass, will have new solo numbers and will unite with Campbell and Burr to form the Peerless Quartet.

Billy Murray must not be overlooked. With his big smile and his own way of introducing the artists, for Billy is the interactor, he still finds time to sing many comic ditties during the evening. Monroe Silver monologist, has a store of new "Cohen" songs and stories. The instrumental part of the program is ably attended to by Rudy Wiedoeft and his Saxophone, and Frank Banta at the piano. Campbell-Burr-Meyer, the Sterling Trio are also programmed for several numbers.

The program will be announced shortly.

SHUBERTS SAMPLE LA CROSSE WITH BIG "UNIT SHOW"

Will Try Town Out for Their New Vaudeville Idea on October 11

Do the residents of this city want Shubert vaudeville? That is a question that the New York theatrical magnates want answered.

Shubert vaudeville is at present established in no less than 35 cities between New York and the Mississippi, including all first class cities in that area and there is an opportunity to implant it here provided it can be made worth while for the interests of the circuit.

To Bring Revue

The Messrs. Shubert are preparing to test out our city and will send to the La Crosse theater on Wednesday, October 11, for one performance, their celebrated cameo revue, "The Whirl of New York," which is one of the "units" of Shubert vaudeville. If the patronage is sufficiently great and the public indicates its desire for more of such entertainment, the La Crosse theater may become a permanent "stand" on the Shubert vaudeville circuit a little later in the season.

Shubert vaudeville is unlike any other entertainment the word "vaudeville" being somewhat of a misnomer. Vaudeville acts are usually recruited from four corners of the compass and it is seldom that the same company appears on the bill intact in any other theater. Shubert vaudeville, on the other hand, is a series of "units," each company traveling together throughout an entire season. In a general way, the first half of a Shubert Vaudeville program consists of five or six vaudeville acts with various interpolations. The second half of the performance is given over to a revue or the condensation of a musical comedy in which the entire company, consisting of from forty to fifty people participate. This is offered in a succession of scenes of the most elaborate nature.

Because of these facts, the same company appears in all cities and the same cast will appear in this city as in New York, Chicago or any of the major cities. By the very nature of the "unit" system, nothing can be changed.

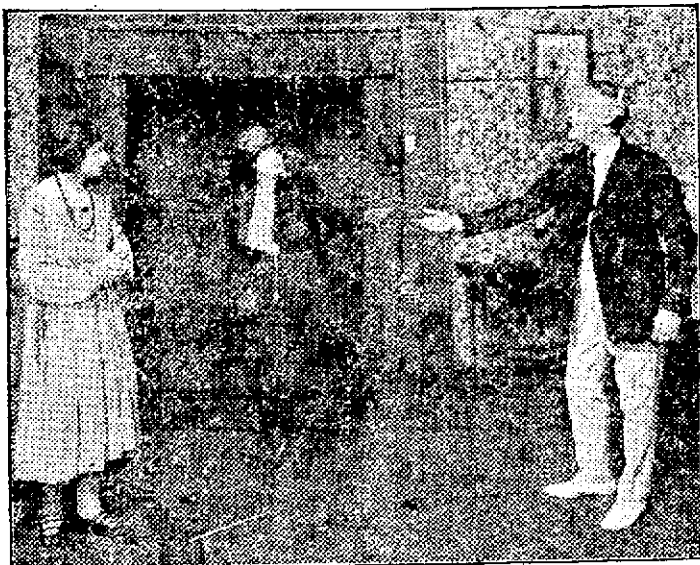

The principals in "The Whirl of New York" contribute the vaudeville specialties in the first half of the performance, after an introduction which binds the entertainment together. The Winter Garden beauty chorus, McCormack and Rogay, Florence Schacter, the brilliant pianist, Purcell Brothers, The Hotfield Trio, Kyro, the marvelous Oriental dancer, and Roy Cummings, the "break-neck" comedian, follow and then all take part in "The Whirl of New York," which will be offered in several scenes. Among the other original members of the Winter Garden cast are Clarence Harvey, Jack Keller, Ann Toddings, Irene Shaw, Viola Votrina and Gene Doyle.

Cut the Kissing Short

Hub—(sampling wife's purchases)—These oranges are sour.

Wife—That's strange! The grocer told me they were sun-kissed oranges from California.

Hub—I guess the movie censors must have limited the length of the kiss.—Boston Evening Transcript.

FREIGHT RATES ON BRICK REDUCED BY RAIL BOARD ORDER

New Schedule of Intra-State Rates Brings Tariff Below Low Level of 1918

MADISON, Wis.—Lower rates on brick shipped by freight to points within Wisconsin were ordered Friday by the railroad commission to take effect immediately. The new schedule of intra state freight charges applies also to clay and concrete products taking brick rates.

Rates ordered, reducing shipping costs on brick to slightly above the level in force before an increase was granted in 1918, follow:

Distance.	Per 100 Lbs.
10 miles or under	3.4 cents
30 miles	3.6 cents
50 miles	3.8 cents
70 miles	4.0 cents
90 miles	4.2 cents
120 miles	4.4 cents
140 miles	4.6 cents
160 miles	4.8 cents
180 miles	5.0 cents
200 miles	5.2 cents
240 miles	5.6 cents
280 miles	6.0 cents
300 miles	6.2 cents
350 miles	6.6 cents
400 miles	7.0 cents

Czarina's Companion a Musician

A woman who was playing a bugle in the Boulevard Montmartre the other day and collecting money was recognized, just as the police were taking her to the station, as the Princess Potemkin, who, a former lady-in-waiting to the czarina, had been reduced to this to buy food for herself. A companion recognized her and obtained her release.

Travel the Length of the Continent

The Biological Survey finds that many of the birds migrating between the United States and Canada spend their winters in South America. Among these are the barn-swallow, the golden plover, and the northern sandpiper. Some travel as far south as the Straits of Magellan. Federal protection of migratory birds has resulted in a marked increase of game birds.

BOY IS INJURED WHEN THROWN OFF A MANURE SPREADER

Caught in the wheel of a manure spreader, thrown to the ground, and run over by the heavy machine, Arthur Mierau, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mierau, sustained injury which caused him to be taken to Winona General hospital. He is reported to be much improved with the possibility of internal injury very slight, according to the attending physician.

The mishap occurred on the Mierau farm, located half way between Wiloka and Money Creek. The lad with the other children was playing around the spreader while the hired man was gathering corn to load into the machine.

Unnoticed the lad tried to climb on the wheel into the wagon box and was clinging to the top of the wheel when the horses started up. His clothes caught in the gears and he was thrown under the moving vehicle, the rear wheel passing over his body.

MANY CANDIDATES NEGLECT FILING OF EXPENSE ACCOUNTS

Names of Such are Turned Over to District Attorneys for Prosecution

MADISON, Wis.—The names of candidates in the September 5 primary election who have failed to file expense accounts with the secretary of state have been turned over to district attorneys for action under the corrupt practices act, according to announcement from the office of the secretary of state Friday. Among the delinquent candidates is one office seeker on the prohibition party state ticket, whose name will not go on the general election ballot unless by court order, it was said.

Candidates in the republican party primary who have failed to turn in their expense accounts were all unsuccessful at the election. Successful candidates in the republican, socialist and democratic parties have all complied with the provisions of the election laws, report of the secretary of state shows.

Court action against delinquent candidates is unlikely, the report says.

RULES LAID DOWN BY THE STATE FOR BEAUTY PARLORS

MADISON, Wis.—Even beauty parlors in Wisconsin must work under a set of rules. This is the edict of Dr. C. V. Harper, head of the state board of health in making public the rules now in effect. The rules ban the open powder box, use of the strychnic pencil, and the treatment of any disease of the skin, scalp or hands unless under the supervision of a physician.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS HAD ENROLLMENT OF 50,000 LAST YEAR

Two Millions Spent in Maintaining Schools Reports Vocational Board Secretary

MADISON, Wis.—Continuation schools in Wisconsin attended during the last year by 49,225 pupils cost $2,168,902, according to a report by Ray Hilver, secretary of the board of vocational education.

There was an increase of over 2,000 in the attendance of the part-time schools of the state during the past year, the report shows. This increase is said to be due to operation of the compulsory part-time education law enacted by the 1921 session of the legislature requiring that all children up to the age of 18 take some school work.

In day schools 24,541 were in attendance, 12,295 boys and 12,243 girls, while night schools were attended by 11,375 boys and 12,309 girls, making a total of 49,225.

Salaries of day school teachers totaled $635,357, those of night school teachers $127,698 and of directors, $91,329, while supervisors were paid $15,723, making a total expenditure for salaries of $884,148.

State aid to pay for half of the instructional expenses would total $442,074, while that allowed under the limitation of a maximum of $20,000 for all cities outside of Milwaukee would have totaled $295,005. The state actually paid in aid $255,000 to the schools. Federal aid amounting to $234,760 was claimed but only $34,655 paid.

Vocational schools of the state are increasing in size with indications that the enrollment and expenditures for the present year will be larger than at any previous time, according to the state board.

George P. Hambrecht, director of vocational education, is at present in Europe studying their method of part-time education used in England and Germany. Many of their methods are expected to be put in force in this state after Mr. Hambrecht returns.

With the opening of schools this year, the board is enforcing the compulsory half-time education law for children between the ages of 14 and 18 more stringently. Many schools unable to take care of the added enrollment due to operation of the new half-time law last year are prepared to train the new classes during the present term, the board announces.

HIGHER PRICES FOR WHEAT PREDICTED BY TREASURY OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON.—Better prices for wheat in the near future were forecast Thursday by high treasury officials. The present low level, officials declared, is bound to be bettered with improvement in transportation facilities and the demand for wheat abroad which will come later.

Inability of the railroads to transport wheat to seaboard has been partly responsible for low prices, it is believed at the treasury, but there also has been a lack of demand in Europe while no world wheat shortage is foreseen. It is declared there will be need for all the surplus of wheat of this country and Canada, particularly since little Russian export wheat is expected.

The highest speed ever attained on a railway, 101 miles an hour, was made by an electric locomotive in 1903.

KATHERINE McDONALD—RIVOLI

Although Katherine MacDonald's productions have met with extraordinary success on the screens of America, never has she made such a satisfactory picture as "Domestic Relations," now at the Rivoli.

As the wronged wife of a suspicious judge, the famous star gives a portrayal that will stand out as one of the best seen on the Rivoli screen for a long time. It is a difficult role but Miss MacDonald has invested it with a fidelity to life that is remarkable. Another member of the cast who should receive special commendation is William F. Carleton, who plays the part of the judge.

The picture can aptly be termed a "slice of life." It reveals life as it is—not as many novelists try to make it.

"Domestic Relations" is a picture that should please all lovers of the cinema, whether young or old. It is clean and wholesome, and extremely entertaining.

CASINO TODAY

"The most lavish scene since 'Joan the Woman'!" That's what is said of the Roman bacchanal recently staged by Cecil B. DeMille for his latest Paramount production of "Manslaughter."

Several years ago the same producer gave to the screen his classic tale of the Maid of Orleans. At that time thousands of "extras" clad in the picturesque costumes of the period, were to be seen daily around the studio and on the massive sets created for that picture.

Since that date there have been many huge scenes filmed at the West Coast home of Paramount Pictures. Hundreds and even thousands of people have worked simultaneously before the cameras. But it remained for Cecil B. DeMille to again set a new mark for sheer, spectacular splendor. And he did it with the Roman scenes in "Manslaughter," showing at the Casino today and Saturday.

TOM MOORE—MAJESTIC

Rupert Hughes has again shown his deftness in creating screen comedies, in his latest photoplay, "From the Ground Up," with Tom Moore in the stellar role. The photoplay is now playing at the Majestic Theater. The story gives Mr. Moore every possible opportunity to exploit his various and unique talents. His smile is ever present, whether as ditch-digger or as the superintendent of an office building. He puts his horse over the hurdles like a professional jockey. And in the moments of pathos, there is a sincerity about Tom Moore's acting that grips the heart.

The story tells of the rise of a lowly immigrant to a position of stability. As his fortunes rise, those of the girl he adores from afar, fall. How they finally are brought together makes a climactic ending to an entertaining picture. Helene Chaovick is Mr. Moore's leading lady; and no man can be blamed for carrying her image about with him for years. The supporting cast is admirable.

STRAND TODAY

Perhaps one is tired of seeing charmingly overdressed men and women suffering the cruel pangs of love and jealousy amidst guided surroundings or perchance one has become jaded by the over generous supply of lingerie spattered about in the numerous bedroom farces.

Perhaps you may yearn for a photoplay with a real story, a story with a real theme, acted by real persons. If these are your inclinations it would not be amiss for us to state that the latest William Fox production, "Silver Wings," featuring Mary Carr of "Over the Hill" fame, contains all the necessary elements comprising a human document. In it you will find real drama, tense action and a strong suspense. Its plot is concerned with the greatest of all loves—mother love. The story moves along with an enormous rapidity and holds our attention throughout the entire length of the production.

RIVIERA SUNDAY

Many remarkable settings, picturing Oriental splendor of architecture at its best, were prepared for the Paramount picture "Above All Law," which comes to the Riviera Theater Sunday. Several of the best known screen players of Europe are assembled in the cast.

Among the sets which are especially noteworthy is the Temple of the Unknown God, a huge Buddha, forty feet high, seated on an immense throne. The general effect of the scene is one of immensity and grandeur seldom seen on the screen.

"Above All Law" is a powerful picture. The story deals with an architect who is summoned to India by a reigning prince to construct a great tomb. But when he learns that the tomb is intended for the prince's wife, who is yet alive and of whom he is insanely jealous, he refuses to have anything to do with the affair. The prince is insistent and causes the architect to be imprisoned. The latter's fiancée traces him to India, and they have many thrilling adventures before they contrive to escape the prince's clutches. The cast is wholly adequate.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Needing but a single victory to clinch the championship, the Yankees failed Thursday in their attempt to settle the issue despite the fact that Joe Ruth, premier American league twirler, was on the firing line. Bush did well, but could not match the brand of hurling uncocked by Rip Collins, erstwhile Yankee south-paw, who piloted the Red Sox to a 3 to 1 decision.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York reports 162 deaths from wood alcohol for 1920 and 1921.

MOVIES TAKEN OF WORK OF BADGER GAME COMMISSION

MADISON, Wis.—The moving picture has now become a state project with the announcement of the state conservation commission that a movie is now being prepared covering the entire field of activities of that commission. When completed it is expected that the reels will be shown in schools throughout the state showing the younger generation the need for conservation and how the work is being carried on.

All three departments of the conservation work will be featured in the film. The filming of the propagation, distribution, and care of fish is now completed. The film showing the forestry division and the game and warden department is well under way. It is expected to complete the reels early in November.

ORPHANAGE HAS THRIVING SCOUT TROOP ORGANIZED

Thirty Boys at St. Michael's Enjoy Work of the Organization

Nearly every boy as he passes through from his eighth to twelfth birthday has a more or less desire to become a Scout. This ambition is not confined to the boys with home life but may be applied as well to the boys who are less fortunate.

In order to put Scouting within the reach of every boy a proposition for organizing a troop at St. Michael's Orphanage was placed before the boys of that school and now a troop of thirty boys under the leadership of Rev. F. A. Hoffmann as Scoutmaster and Joseph Boschert Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop No. 19 and Executive officer at Camp Young Bear. The thirty boys receive all the benefits of Scouting. The troop will meet at the Orphanage and twice a month will take a hike for their nature work.

Provisions for membership in the troop are that the boys must maintain a satisfactory grade in the school work and the enthusiasm of the boys in this movement shows that the school need not fear the boys lack of efficiency in the school work. Uniforms will be purchased for the boys who will keep the uniforms as long as their school work is satisfactory. If he should leave the school the equipment is reversed back to the school and issued to a new boy. Those who have offered to equip a boy complete are P. J. Yerly, John C. Burns, J. J. Freas, Harry Newburg, Wm. Funke, A. B. Burgess, Arthur Funke, Albert Funke, W. F. Funke and Thomas Lyon. Other persons who will care for one boy should call Wm. Funke.

The boys who are members of this troop are:

R. Amerling, R. Baker, E. Bintlzer, C. Brown, A. Dehlinger, H. Ebertsen, A. Forcier, J. Franzen, A. Head, R. Joseph, C. Kyle, R. Langheim, W. Mancke, C. Matuska, C. McCarthy, K. McPeak, H. Oakes, N. Rehlfuss.

5-Minute Breakfasts

Instant Quaker Oats
make them possible

Now your oat dish can be ready in five minutes, if you wish. There is an Instant Quaker Oats which cooks in 3 to 5 minutes.

It is just like the Quaker Oats you know in quality and flavor. It is flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel.

But the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.

Your grocer has both styles. If you want the Instant Quaker look for "Instant" on the label. You will get the quickest cooking oats in the world.

RED SOX PREVENT YANKS FROM MAKING SURE OF PENNANT

Rip Collins, Castoff, Has Better of Hurling Duel With Bush

BOSTON, Mass.—Boston prevented New York from clinching the American league pennant on Thursday by defeating the leaders, 3 to 1. Warren (Rip) Collins, last year with the Yankees, had the better of Joe Bush, in 1921 a member of the Red Sox, in a well pitched game. Collins allowed only four hits. He walked seven and fanned only one, but due was effective. Bush struck out nine, Collins fanning four times.

The New York run was the result of a pass to Witt in the third and singles by Dugan and Pipp. Boston scored a run in the second on a pass and singles by J. Collins and Mitchell. In the sixth Pratt doubled to short right and scored on J. Collins' single to center. O'Rourke's sacrifice, a pass and Pratt's double gave Boston its third run in the seventh.

Former Yankees were responsible for all three Boston runs. New York must win one game or St. Louis lose one to assure the Yankees the pennant. Score: New York.....015 001 102-3
Batteries—Bush and Schatz; Collins and Ruel.

Macks, 12-6; Griffs, 4-9
PHILADELPHIA—Washington and Philadelphia split even in a double header on Thursday, the visitors winning the first game, 9 to 6, and the locals the second, 12 to 4. The second contest was called at the end of the sixth inning because of darkness. The Athletics used five pitchers in the opener, but Harris held the Senators safe in the second game. Score: Washington.....022 000-4
Philadelphia.....040 200-6
Batteries—Francis, Wernoth and Naplan; Harris and Brugg.

First game.....511 001 100-9
Washington.....001 210 200-6
Philadelphia.....001 210 200-6
Batteries—Morridge and Garrity; Rommel, Ketcham, Schilling, Eckert, Helmach and Perkins, Brugg.

INTERESTING BATTLE ON FOR FULLBACK'S BERTH AT UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

By BOB DUNN.

One of the most interesting battles for positions on the varsity eleven this fall is the fight for the fullback's job, handled so competently by Guy Sundt for the past several seasons. The battle lies between Taft, Harris, Radtke and Crozier, the latter utility fullback on last year's team. In the scrimmages for several nights Taft has been used quite regularly at the position on the varsity with Radtke hitting the line for the seconds. Crozier, who reported later than the other men, has been given a chance on the seconds and seems to have about the same amount of power he gave to the eleven last year.

Harris on Sideline
For the present Harris is on the sidelines. He did not work out on Monday or Tuesday because of a minor injury but he is fit to go in at any time the coach chooses to use him. Harris works equally well at either full or half.

In many departments of the game Harris has appeared to have the edge on Taft in workouts to date but it seems from observations at practices for the two weeks they have been in progress that Taft will finally receive most consideration for the post. One thing certain is that Taft has shown remarkable improvement in his work during the past week. The deciding point in Taft's favor, however, after all the other merits and demerits of the respective candidates are discussed, is the fact that he is now the best punter on Richards' squad. Taft's punting has been nothing phenomenal in scrimmage but frequently in practice he has booted a noticeable impression in any hard fought grid battle. If he can get his kicks off as much ground in actual contests this would make his presence on the eleven almost indispensable for no other punter of any ability has as yet been uncovered.

Taft Shows Improvement
Taft's work in bucking the line has shown much improvement in the course of the past week under the tutelage of Coach Richards who himself played full during his college days. The big boy is hitting the holes made for him by the forwards more effectively and in the scrimmages of this week in particular his work in the secondary defense has been one of the features of his play. He does not possess enough beef to back up the work of his line with the power of a Crangle or a Williamson but his drive and ability to fathom just where a play is to hit may make up for other handicaps. He is particularly rangy on the secondary defense and time and again has nailed a man as he was coming to the line.

Harris has no more ability along this particular line than has Taft, whose work compares favorably with that of the other candidates, but in puncturing the line Harris seems to have an edge.

At the same time, however, Harris is equally effective in this style of play, especially in tackle plays, at a half back's position and with Williams and Gibson at the halves regularly the team will need another half of equal ability. It is almost a physical impossibility for a team to work through a series of games like Wisconsin will have to face in November without several backs who are equally effective.

For this reason Jack Harris' adaptability at either a halfback or fullback's job may come in more than handy as the season progresses. Doubtless as the preliminary games approach, Crozier will come into more prominence in the workouts as he is given more of a chance with the seconds. Radtke, however, has been showing up well, especially on the defense, and Crozier will have to fight hard to gain the position he held down last year, which was well for the quality of a large number of candidates the catch has for the position this season.

May Be Taft
With all things considered at this early date, it appears that Taft's kicking ability and his ability to improve consistently under competent tutelage will win for him the choice of the fullback's work.

This, however, is not disparaging the work of Harris. It appears that parts of the game it appears that his work is superior to Taft's but the coach will be using Harris plenty as the season progresses and realizes that a good punter on the squad is of as much importance as a man who can buck the line. Taft is to do much at the latter and he has a decided edge on anybody else uncovered as yet in booting the ball.

Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics, the only other major league clubs active Thursday, split a double-header, Ed Rommel, Mack's ace, was knocked out in the first game, which the Senators won, 9 to 6, but the Athletics slugged out a 12 to 4 victory in the second contest, a six inning affair.

MADISON HERE ON NOVEMBER 18 WITH LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

Scheduling of Capital City Completes Lineup of Four Home Games

The schedule difficulties of the high school football team are finally straightened out definitely. Central high school of Madison will come here on November 18 for the closing game of the home schedule. With this game the football enthusiasts will see Sparta, Eau Claire, Lane Tech. of Chicago and Madison in action here against the local high school warriors. This is undoubtedly the best football schedule that has ever been brought to this city.

Stiff scrimmage is testing out the individual players under fire as well as showing the necessity of exacting team play. Work on new formations is progressing so that when the whistle blows at Tomahawk a week from Saturday the Red and Black will be able to give a good account of themselves.

SERIES BATTLE SATURDAY GAME STARTS AT 3 O'CLOCK

THE second game of the series for the championship of La Crosse will be played between the Montague and Nelson teams at Copeland park Saturday afternoon. The contest will start at 3 o'clock.

After their overwhelming defeat of 3 to 0 in the opening game, the Nelson club will be prepared to fight a winning battle while the Montagues will be equally determined to end the series by winning the games on Saturday and Sunday.

While the respective pitchers have not been definitely announced, it was expected that the selections for Saturday's game would be Big Benn for the Nelsons and "Red" Learn for the Montagues.

Despite the fact that the next battle comes on a week day, it was the prediction that a large attendance would be out, and another capacity crowd for Sunday's contest was assured. With a Nelson victory on Saturday or Sunday, the final games of the series would not be played for another week.

The World Series baseball games are to be seen here at the La Crosse Theater starting Wednesday October 4. This board plays the games exactly and simultaneously as they are being played on the crucial diamond many miles away. The board will give in detail the game just as it is progressing in New York or wherever the game is being played. There is no waiting for reports and there is no guessing; if there is a base on balls given you know it in actual time about two minutes after it has happened. This is obtained by special leased telegraph wire from the diamond to the La Crosse Theater. The same on strikes, errors, double plays, hit by ball, base hits; in fact everything. Don't fail to see this great board play these World Series Games.

SCORES OF WRAPS AND DRESSES SEEN IN BIG STYLE SHOW

Matchow-Pruess Fourth Semi-Annual Revue of Fall and Winter Modes Hit at Rivoli

ENTERTAINMENT NUMBERS FEATURE THE OFFERING

Notable Costume Dances and Musical Numbers

Matchow Brothers & Pruess' semi-annual fashion show has become an institution of moment in La Crosse, judging by the crowd of interested folks who turned out to see the opening of its fourth appearance last night at the Rivoli theater. And from all accounts they were well pleased with the show.

Nine skillful models portrayed scores of handsome wraps and gowns of the latest fall and winter modes as the central feature of the show, but interest was almost as keen in the entertainment features provided as a setting for the show. These included high-grade musical numbers, and characteristic dances presented by well-known local artists.

One of the high spots of the show was the dancing of Virginia Bijour, a seven-year-old youngster of the city who displays remarkable grace and ability in a song and dance, "Teach Me." An elaborately costumed Spanish dance by Miss Naomi Frances Pruess, and an Italian costume dance by Miss Lenore Johnson, were other notable features.

The program follows:
Vocal solo—"Just a Little Love Song," Roy Chase.
Italian Peasant Dance—Lenore Johnson.
Recitation—"The Revue."
Part I—Style Revue Showing street dresses, coats, sport wear.
Song and dance—"Teach Me," Darling Virginia Twinkles of La Crosse. Spanish waltz song, Mrs. F. A. Pruess, followed by Spanish dance, Romanza Andaluza, Opus 22 by Naomi Frances Pruess.

Part II—Style Revue showing evening gowns, afternoon gowns, wraps. Finale—Just a Little Love Song.

Materials for coats and wraps shown includes Normandies, Gerona cloth, panne velvines, Ormaondales, Marcellas, Navissas, Fashiona and Frosglow, in shades of Tunisian, Genoese, Hawaiian, Korar and Pom-mard. Many were trimmed with furs, including beaver, squirrel, caracul, fox, wolf and moleskin. Gowns shown were in Crepe-Worth, Trico-Twills, Piquette, Polart Twills and satin-faced Canton. Colors of the gowns were chiefly navy, black and wood browns.

The models were Misses Cora Larson, Leone Kirkbusch, Doris Kathary, Margaret Pryor, Esther Hegg, Cecilia Ryan, Alice Knudson, Margaret Anderberg and Mrs. C. Thatro.

Mr. Pruess, who personally staged and produced the show, described the gowns and wraps worn by the models last night as follows:

Alice Knudson: 1. Navy blue Polart twill tailored dress with jade duvetyne and peasant embroidery. 2. Evening gown of Spanish lace over panne velvet, extreme decollete.

Margaret Pryor: Street dress of navy piquette with fancy brocade of black and red steel buckles. Skirt in popular circular effect. Blue coat with Isabelle Fox collar and cuffs. Blouse with navy velvet evening gown with bodice of flame panne velvet and skirt of black in draped effect with brilliant buckle holding drape in place.

Cecilia Ryan: Navy blue Polart twill street dress in circular effect, peasant embroidery and tasseled braid, carried over shoulder. Rain-bow taffeta evening gown with brocade silver metallic embroidery. Castle bodice and full skirt.
Violet Torgerson: Street dress, kittens ear crepe of Mohawk and navy, draped effect, blouse back. Coat of black fashiona with silver fox collar and cuffs. 2. Evening gown of black chintilly lace side panels of drape effect.

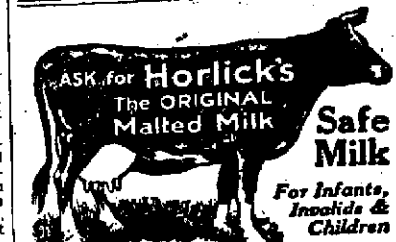

Miss Miller: Sport coat of grey chinchilla and hat to match. Sport skirt of rainbow stripes and sweater, carrying gown of matelasse, circular effect. Blouse back wrap of navy Veldyne, blouse back with silver fox collar and cuffs, and brocade crepe lining.

Cora Larson: Extravagant simplicity in the keynote to the gown worn by Miss Larson in part one of Polart twill with gorgeous embroidered sleeves of Sankar crepe, lined with Geriwinkle satin, a straight line effect. In part II, evening gown of black silk net and jet over satin. Extreme decollete.

Leone Kirkbusch: Appears in a street dress of Piquette draped model with ever popular peasant embroidery. Part II, evening gown of black silk net and jet over satin.
Doris Kathary: Street dress of Sankar tricotine, hand embroidered and brown wrap of navy Marvella with silver fox collar and cuffs. Part II, gown artfully draped combined with Sankar, goergette and cream lace, peasant sleeves and band of brown marten fur.

Helen Snyder: Black canton crepe dress with moire trimming and touches of maize. She wears a Sankar wrap with heavy collar and cuffs. Part II, brown Robinette street dress embroidered in silk and steel heads in draped effect.
Mrs. Thatro: Part I, black canton crepe draped model with fringe tassels and ornament of oriental colors. Sorrento blue wrap with Isabelle fox collar and cuffs.

Mrs. Thatro, part 2, French model of matelasse of extreme simplicity draped

WALK-OVER

Once it was "price" Now it's service

"How much?" used to be the thing you'd consider first in a pair of shoes.

It's still important, but not the main argument for a shoe.

Good judgment goes beyond the pocketbook.

It considers the fit and the wear, and then the price.

The most valuable thing in a shoe, you cannot see at all.

When you buy a Walk-Over, you're getting a shoe that has stood the test of hard times and good times for 48 years. It is known for its good, faithful service.

We Stop Falling Hair in 3 Weeks And Grow New Hair in 90 Days or Your Money Refunded

Pay Nothing

—unless we grow hair. The Van Ess treatment is absolutely guaranteed. You are the sole judge. The warrant is signed by your own druggist. You assume no risk in making this test.

This New Way

Science discovers falling, lustreless hair due to simple infection (Sebum). Now quickly overcomes it. Hair actually grown on 91 heads in 100!

This is to offer you new hair—just as beautiful, attractive—or money refunded. It offers, too, to stop falling hair in 3 weeks.

If we fail, the treatment costs you nothing. Your own druggist signs the guarantee. Hence you assume no risk.

Thousands of women have made this test. Results are amazing. The charm of wonderful hair is now available to any one who chooses to have it.

The Infected Sebum in Your Hair

Sebum is an oil. It forms at the follicles of the hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil.

But frequently it becomes infected. It caked on the scalp; clogs the follicles and plugs them.

Germs by the millions breed

In it, then feed upon the hair. Soon your hair begins falling. You note too how little it appears. In a short time, all the natural lustre and beauty are gone.

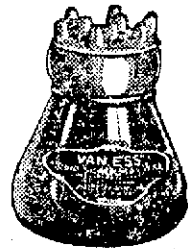

But—and note this scientific fact—remove the sebum and the hair reverts back to the softness and brilliancy it displayed when you were a school girl.

The Van Ess treatment accomplishes that result. We know. Will doubt it. So we guarantee it.

We urge you to give this new way a fair trial. It is folly not to test it; for, remember, you take no risk.

Go to any druggist or department store today. Ask for the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. Written guarantee accompanies it.

FUL-O-PEP DRY MASH

The one great mistake most poultry raisers make is in feeding scratch grains to make eggs. This more than any other reason is exactly why their hens don't lay. The feed that Makes Hens Lay is FULL-O-PEP DRY MASH—originated and manufactured by The Quaker Oats Company—the largest manufacturers of poultry feed in the world. It is a soft, finely ground correctly balanced feed and how it does make the hens shell out the eggs. It is generally known and spoken of as "the greatest egg producing feed."

Come to our store and let us tell you more about this feed—the feed that is sure to make your hens lay—Fall and Winter as well as summer.
